

For immediate release:
May 2, 2011
Media contact: Allison
Williams
727-492-3473,
info@angelsintheair.com

The fresh taste of a juicy watermelon. The smell of barbeque and sunscreen. The feel of sand between your toes. The sound of children playing and music blasting from open car windows. The thrilling surge of adrenaline as you watch an Aerial Angel, twisted beautifully in silk twenty feet above your head, plummet to the ground, catching herself gracefully inches from the concrete.

Indulge your senses in the best a Michigan summer has to offer with the Aerial Angels at the Walker Branch of the Kent District Libraries at 1pm on June 16th!

The Aerial Angels, a circus arts and aerial theatre company based in Kalamazoo, Michigan, have performed all across the globe: ten countries, five Canadian provinces, and seventeen U.S. States. They charm a wide range of audiences, from corporate affairs, to street festivals and Renaissance Fairs, to traditional theatrical venues. Their mostly-female cast of performers does a little bit of everything: aerial silk, hoop and trapeze, fire-eating, partner acrobatics, contortion, escape artistry, and, of course, comedy.

The Angels are happy to be in Walker as part of a busy summer tour. Artistic Director, Allison Williams, says, “This library show combines two of our favorite things – the circus...and books! Last year, we enjoyed performing for so many families.”

Visit the Angels at the Walker branch in June and visit them on the web at www.angelsintheair.com.

**Photo by Fehmi Comert. For more hi-res PR photos, please email info@angelsintheair.com. A selection of low-res for is also available at www.angelsintheair.com/gallery.*